

REMAIN INDEBTED TO YOUR GURUS - Information Officer

Adherence to guidance, knowledge and wisdom gained from Gurus will be the best way for worshipping and in paying them respects on the occasion of Guru Purnima Stated Shri. Prakash Naik, Information Officer of the Department of Information and Publicity while speaking as Chief Guest at the Guru Purnima celebration held at the precincts of Shree Satyanayan Devasthan at Askan-Partal, Shiroda yesterday.

The function was organised by Shree Satyanarayan Mahila Bhajani Mandal.

Highlighting the significance of Guru Shishya Parampara which has been prevailing in our country since ancient times, Shri. Naik said it is the mother who is regarded as our first Guru, followed by a teacher and the celebration of Guru Purnima every year on full moon day is an appropriate occasion to seek blessings of Guru and express our gratitude to them for sharing their knowledge and wisdom. Undoubtedly a Guru is a guide who removes darkness and ignorance from our lives and gives proper shape and definite direction to our future career. Shri. Naik said opting for requisite guidance has become indispensable to achieve success and earn laurels in any field be it sports, education, film, art among others. Anyone from whom we learn something and who teaches and guides us to develop our personality and become responsible citizens is our Guru, he said.

Shri. Naik recalled the contribution of late Sharad Chandra Gayak, a well known vocalist from Viridi-Sanquelim in North Goa who passed away recently for having trained the members of Shree Satyanarayan Mahila Bhajani Mandal.

He also advised all those associated with Bhajani Mahila Mandal to always remain indebted to their Gurus. The only way to enhance what we have attained or learned from our Gurus is to share the light of knowledge with others.

Shri. Naik showered praises on the members of Shree Satyanarayan Mahila Bhajani Mandal for conducting various activities for promotion of Bhajani form of art and varied social and cultural aspects ever since its inception. This mandal has gained eminence in Goa, he added.

Shri. Shankar R. Naik, disciple of Shri Sharad Chand Gayak who was honoured on the occasion said that he will always rally behind the members of Shree Satyanarayan Mahila Bhajanai Mandal to develop their artistic skills and for enrichment of Art and Culture.

Shri. Vaibhav Naik, Bhajani artist recited a poem penned by him.

Earlier, Smt. Pooja P. Naik, ex. President of Shree Satyanarayan Mahila Bhajani Mandal welcomed and Miss Prajakta P. Chari proposed the vote of thanks.
